What changed since Assessment 3:

- Added javascriptpage.html with newsletter signup button
- Added newsletter.html with signup form, onload alert and JavaScript validation
- Added 3 new skills pages (communication, organisation, creativity)
- Updated navigation across all pages
- Renamed files from sk_A3 to sk_A4
- Added CSS form styling
- Added responsive design media queries
- Updated colour scheme
- Updated and corrected CSS colour variables
- Added responsive media queries

Personal Reflection

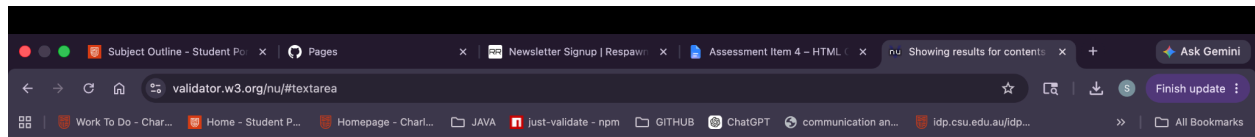

Several improvements were made to the portfolio website for Assessment 4, building on the foundation established in Assessments 2 and 3.

The most significant addition is the newsletter signup page, it demonstrates the use of JavaScript along with HTML and CSS. The page includes functions to display alerts when opening the page, as well as invalid submission and successful submission. The form uses the POST method and includes all required elements such as the text inputs for the first and last names as well as the email address, all five required radio buttons for age range selection, the five check boxes for company services, and a textarea for additional comments. The form can be opened on a new browser tab using the button of the Web Skills page, and is styled entirely with the external stylesheet.

Three new content pages were added (Communication, Organisation, and Creativity) following the same consistent structure as the existing pages. On the CSS side, responsive styles were introduced using @media screen breakpoints at 1024px and 768px, which adjusts the navigation button sizing for different sized screens. I refined the colour scheme and updated the comments and titles to improve readability against the background. The portfolio now contains nine pages in total, all sharing a single external stylesheet, a consistent header and navigation structure, and a unified visual identity built around RespawnRitual Studios brand.
